OUR STORY

From the hive to your home, nothing added

We work with 40+ family beekeepers who follow the flowers across Pakistan: sidr trees in Karak, phulai in the Salt Range, wildflowers in Swat. Each batch is cold-extracted, tested in an independent lab, and jarred by hand in Lahore.

- ✓ Traceable to the farm and harvest date
- ✓ Independent purity & moisture tests
- ✓ Fair prices paid directly to beekeepers

Description | Benefits & use | Shipping & returns

Sidr honey is one of the most prized honeys in the world. Our beekeepers move their hives to the sidr groves of Karak each autumn, when the trees bloom for just a few weeks.

The result is a thick, slow-pouring honey with a deep caramel flavour and a gentle warmth at the finish. It is cold-extracted and never heated or filtered, so it keeps its natural enzymes and pollen.

Floral source	Ziziphus (Sidr / Beri)
Origin	Karak, Khyber Pakhtunkhwa
Harvest	Oct 2026
Category	Sidr & Beri
Processing	Raw, cold-extracted, unfiltered
